Targeted direct mail marketing support.

DIRECT MARKETING CAMPAIGNS

United States Seamless annually develops a marketing calendar with the opportunity for dealers to participate in a hands-free and customized local campaign on a quarterly basis. These comprehensive direct marketing campaigns, like our Spring Sale, come with additional collateral and allow you to fully reap the benefits of a coordinated campaign with posters, job-site cards, newspapers inserts and past customer mailers for example.

SOCIAL MEDIA

Social media is likely used by at least half of your potential customers or clients, no matter what industry you're in. It's relatively low overhead. It's probably going to cost you much less to effectively market yourself on Facebook and Twitter than it would to build a traditional marketing campaign through billboards and television commercials, for example. And, lastly, it is multi-dimensional. Social media isn't homogeneous, Facebook is not the same as Twitter and Pinterest is a whole different animal. Then there's Foursquare, Yelp, MySpace and much more. These different websites all present both opportunities and challenges to a business looking to succeed in online marketing. Dedicate an hour of your day or a few hours a week to online marketing. Social networking sites such as those below have made it easy for consumers and professionals to socialize and exchange information with people who have similar interests. Become a 'Fan' on United States Seamless Facebook page, for this is a great place to stay connected and view new photos.

In-depth training and certification.

United States Seamless offers a variety of training programs for installation, sales, marketing & operations, as well as offering options for custom training designed around your needs. We believe strongly in the importance of planning and preparedness, organization, responsibility, accountability and best practices. We are here to make sure you understand the tools and systems to help you and your team create success.

INITIAL INSTALLER AND MACHINE TRAINING & CERTIFICATION

Before departing with a new seamless siding machine, every new dealer is required to spend two days at our corporate headquarters doing hands-on machine adjustment training. The training focuses on an in-depth understanding of the seamless siding machine. Training is designed to give your entire seamless installation crew the knowledge and confidence to be successful in the install side of the business. Because of your commitment and the investment you have made, we want you to be assured your installation crew is fully trained in seamless siding application and seamless machine adjustments; we even test your installers to ensure they can properly adjust the machine to produce a perfect panel.

INSTALLER TRAINING AND CERTIFICATION PROGRAMS

In addition to initial machine and install training, United States Seamless maintains a training program schedule for installer and advanced installer training. At our Advanced Installer Training, participants will learn about moisture control on house wraps, advanced installation techniques, siding machine maintenance, job-site safety, defensive driving, customer relationships and satisfaction, marketing and much more. This hands-on training course will ensure your crews have the skills to be successful in the field. Graduates of the course receive an accreditation certificate and completion ID card with photo. We recommend this certificate be displayed in a prominent location, and that your sales people carry their ID card.

SALES TRAINING PROGRAM

United States Seamless offers a sales training program for all dealers and their salespeople. We also offer custom sales training camps, as requested by our dealers. The typical sales camp goes into detailed training on product and estimating. It includes information on direct marketing, job-site marketing, working trade shows, referral programs and the makings of an effective sales presentation. You will learn about quality control and siding procedures right on the job-site. You will be trained on the sales process and reporting process that United States Seamless believes is a proven success tool. Our corporate trainer will discuss effective use of our fully integrated digital, in-home sales resource. Our sales training is also expanded on through our tele-conference and webinar training programs.

TRAINING VIA TELE-CONFERENCES & WEBINARS

One of the benefits of belonging to our organization is that you have the opportunity to learn from a number of businesses similar to your own. Through online and tele-conference training, you will be able to converse with many of your fellow dealers at once about topics such as “Lead Generation and Marketing” or “Hiring, Training and Paying Siding Crews.” One person will facilitate the call but it is wide open for discussion and sharing of ideas.

Valuable connections with other dealers.

United States Seamless holds an annual conference during the first quarter of each year. This is the perfect time to gather before the start of most home shows and the big selling season. Dealers from across the country gather to glean valuable information for the upcoming season. New dealers can become acquainted with fellow affiliates and the corporate staff. The opportunity to develop a network with other dealer leaders is an important part of our annual conference and it elevates everyone to new heights in the seamless siding industry.

This conference is designed to address the challenges and opportunities unique to our business and dealer system. Created for dealer owners and key staff members, that are ready to grow their business, the annual meeting is a prime networking and educational conference. The annual conference not only provides the perfect opportunity to network with fellow dealers, but also facilitates open interaction between owners about sales and business best practices. These business and personal relationships, which will develop over the course of time, are very valuable assets. This dealer-to-dealer conference will give you the opportunity to network and interact with your peers—other dealers—who will encourage you to unleash your potential and leave with at least one solid growth idea to implement.

In addition to training, business growth opportunities, sales and marketing introductions, round tables and business meeting; the annual conference also recognizes top performers at the annual awards ceremony. At the awards ceremony, dealer owners are recognized for their business growth, outstanding sales, innovative ideas and teamwork. Customer service and design excellence awards are presented for great customer service and exceptional installation and project completion. The International Design Photography Winners really grab the attention of the group and each year the bar is raised.
